THE WATERCOLOUR LOOK FOR LESS

Sadly few, if any of us, were invited to the Veuve Clicquot Polo Classic in New York in late June.

But if we had been, the watercolour-print Saloni frock and House of Lavande bracelet Alexis Bledel (a.k.a. Rory Gilmore of The Gilmore Girls) wore to the event would have topped our shopping list.

In lieu of ponies and Argentinean men, we'll satisfy ourselves by recreating the look back here in Canada and paint the town red — and blue and purple and yellow — while wishing our croquet mallets were longer.
